Presented by CAL POLY ARTS

As Festival Director and on behalf of Cal Poly Arts, we invite you to the 2017 La Guitarra California Festival at Cal Poly University in San Luis Obispo, California on September 22, 23 & 24.

The 2017 Festival is a “Celebration of Guitar” featuring 14 world-renowned artists in ten concerts, five Masterclasses, two free outdoor concerts, two guitar auctions, an exhibit of guitar-themed art, and dozens of guitar makers displaying their instruments in the Vendor Fair.

Don't miss Opening Night! The 2017 Festival is dedicated to Maestro Christopher Parkening. The evening begins with a concert by Russian virtuoso Rovshan Mamedkuliev, winner of the 2012 Guitar Foundation of America competition, followed by a video on Mr. Parkening's stellar career. After receiving the La Guitarra Lifetime Achievement Award, Mr. Parkening will perform a brief recital with acclaimed baritone, Jubilant Sykes.

The other renowned performers are Meng Su (China), Jason Vieaux (USA), Jérémy Jouve (France), Marc Teicholz (USA), Celil Refik Kaya (Turkey), Johannes Möller (Sweden), and Laura Fraticelli (Argentina).

The five Masterclasses are conducted by an outstanding group of teachers: Christopher Parkening, Jason Vieaux, Johannes Möller, Marc Teicholz, and Martha Masters. (see website for details)

Concert tickets are reserved seating and affordable. Most concerts are $30, the guitar orchestra concert is free, and the cost to see a two-hour Masterclass is just $12.50. Ticket price includes all service charges, facility fees, credit card charges, and parking!

Visit the Festival website for artist biographies, schedule, tickets, Vendor Fair, guitar-themed art exhibit, and the La Guitarra Lifetime Achievement Award. (the award is shown on the cover of the brochure).

Please contact me if you need more brochures.

See you at the Festival!
